Ghosts Michael Teitelbaum

Plot Summary

Ghosts is a book explaining paranormal activities that happened to people. Some pictures are fake because now days people can create fake images on their computer easily by blending. The book talks about Houdini, who was a great magician in his days. He tried to prove that ghosts don't exist, but he failed. Ghost hunters still search for proof if ghosts exist or not. There has been very good proof but not good enough to make people believe that ghosts exist. The most haunted place in the world is in Barnstable, Cape Cod, Massachusetts. There were a lot of people who died in the house. Someone hanged himself and a captain lost his wife and daughter when he was away at sea. His wife locked herself in a room and died of starvation. It is said that Captain Grey and his family still roam the house.

Plot High Point

It is really exiting when people find proof that they saw ghosts. But, it also can be a fake image. That is why ghost hunters go to houses with video cameras to show us proof. The highest point of the book is when they show us real pictures of ghosts which are scary.

Main Characters

The main characters in the book are Harry Houdini who has been a great magician. There are two really good ghost hunters who are called Grant Wilson and Jason Hawes.

Setting

Paranormal activities happen in buildings.

Personal Opinion

I think the book is really good because I like to read and watch ghost proofs. Once I saw something in T.V. and it was showing a video camera lift on it's own and fall down really slowly. That was really creepy!
